Capital for Policians.

The recent affair at Bar or's Perry appears as likely to make as much capital for the Demoeracy, as did the assault of Parston BROOKS, Sow years close, on Senator Sussen, for the Republicans. It is an old adage that "turn about is fair play." The Republicans then held the Democratic party responsible for the act of single individual; and Governor Manor, who wasat the time Secretary of State, remarked, effethe Presidential election had terminated, and Mr. Brossasas was known to have succeeded, "that that set alone cost the Democratwo huzdred thousand votes, and that had their opponents made a different selection of a Presidency."

Whether this be so or not ,we do not pretend to judge, but the recent attempt o BROWS and his associates to carry out their peculiar notions by the sacrifice of so much human life, has afforded capital to Democratic politicians that they are not slow to avail themselves of. Already, we notice, the papers in the interest of that party are on the track, and charge leading politicians of the opposition with complicity with Brown and his associates, whiist the leading journals of the epposition are equally intent on proving that the party and its leaders are innocent of any participation or knowledge of Brown's movements.

cardidate it would have cost the Democracy the

Whatever the result of these things may be, the whole affair is greatly to be deplored by all good men, North or South, Democrats and Republicans. If the actors in the Harper's Forry tragedy had no actual abettors, they at least were encouraged by the many injulicious and often times inflamatory appeals that we see put forth from time to time, not only denunciatory of the institution of Slavery, but of the decision of out higher courts where the rights of slaves

These appeals to force are out of place, and cannot do otherwise than lead to mischief, and the perpetuity of wrong will, in the end recoil upon those who indulge in them-as in the present instance. If laws exist that are unwise or unjust, there is a legitimate means of getting rid of them, and until those means can be used peaceably, it is better to suffer than to attempt violence. Calm discussion with a people like ours will accomplish more than all the violent ciations that could possibly be made. We trust that these cases may prove profitable lessons to both sides, and that parties and leaders, bereafter, will be less inclined to allow their passions and feelings to supplant their better judg. ments at the expense of truth and right.

The Harper's Ferry Affair.

An Extraordinary Sermon.

Rev. HENRY WARD BRECHER preached, last evening, a sermon which, even for that celebrated man, was an extraordinany one. His text was, virtually, the Harper's Ferry Affair, though the words were from Hoty Writ. He ridiculed, as few could do, the capture of two thousand people by reventeen men, and the calls to arms of two States and a part of the Federal forces be . sides, to capture those seventeen, and painted vividly many of the scenes connected with the tragedy. He condomned and denounced all such acts of violence, and all measures which tend to separate and create enmity between the people of the North and those of the South, in terms which could not but have pleased the ears of the slaveholders themselves.

question were then given at greater length, and more explicitly than they have been on any other occasion. Those who suppose that they differ entirely from Mr. BERCHER in sentiment on this subject, will be astonished, we will prom ise them, on a perusal of this sermon. To ensble all such and all others, who, from curiosity, or from any other motive desire to read a sermon of unusual merit as well as of unusual interest to the whole community, we have arranged to publish a verbatim report of it, from Mr. BEECHER's own notes, and under his own revision, in The Sun of Wednesday morning.

The Monitour officially announces that on the 17th a treaty of peace was signed at Zurich between France and Austria.

Referring to the contemplated European congress, the Paris correspondent of the London Times says elevan powers will meet, vis.:— the five great powers, Sardina, Spain, Sweden, Portugal, Naples, and Rome.

The Lenden Post says that preliminary negotia-tions for a congress are only going on, it being much easier to plan a congress than to complete the neces-eary preliminaries. England is pledged to enter no congress unless the indepunction and free action of Central Haly are previously understood to be guar-anteed. It is understood that the question of the Lombard debt was left to the arbitration of the King of Belgians.

Paris, 18th.—It is ascerted that the second treaty of prace will be signed to-morrow, the decision of the King of the Belgians on the debt of Lombardy having reached Zurich.

London, 19th.—The Post has a dispatch from Paris, dated last night, stating that three distinct instruments will be signed at Zurich; the treaty between France and Sardmin will be signed in a day or two; the tripitate treaty will be signed subsequently.

or two; the tripitate treaty will be signed subsequently.

The Times of this morning states that the terms of the Zurich treaty are almost identical with those agreed to at Ville Tranca, and that peace, as one of the questions which disquiet Italy and Europe, seems settled.

The Morning Post says, that assuring its information to be correct, the further proposals concerning the questions left open, which it is intended to submit to the approach of the Congress, are of such a nature that the diplomatiest at Zurich have only heaped up materials of fresh difficulties. England can and will take no part in any Congress, of which the first principle be not the recognition of the Romagna Modens and Tuscans, no less than the Modenses and Parcean States, to self-government. The first cannon shot fired to force on the people of the Romagna, Modens and Tuscany any other rulers than the Italian Prince, in whom they so fondly put their trust, will be thesignal of a conflict as deadly as the one just brought to a close.

The Great Eastern continued at Holyhead. Prince Albert visited her on the 17th, during the sojourn of the Royal family at Bangor, but the Queen did not go. It had been asserted that the vessel would sail for Portland, Maine, on or about the 28th of Ootober, but it is semi-officially announced, that the directors had not come to any decision. A meeting was to be held on the 10th, and it was thought that final arrangements would then be made. and qualified.

Mr. Chilton though it due to himself to make an explanatory statement before the tile proceeded.—Yesterday he was very unexpectedly called upon to come here, and add in the defence of the prisoner. Knowing from the newspapers that the trial was in progress, he took time to consider and consult his friends as ta the prepriety of accepting the proposition. He would have had no hestistion if he had been spoken to in time, but his friends advised him to come, and he did so with the expectation of mere'y assisting the gentlemen alreas'y conducting the defence. Upon reaching he, he found that they had withdrawn from the case, and he then hesitated about undertaking it; but upon consultation with the prisoner and his friends here, they insisted he should do so, and he would do the best he could, not feeling at liberty under the circumstances to ref. so. These circumstances, however, would render it impossible for him to discharge the full duty of counsel, not having has time to read the full duty of counsel, not having has time to read the full duty of counsel, not having has time to read the full duty of counsel, not having has time to read the full duty of counsel, not having has time to read the full duty of counsel, not having has time to read the full duty of counsel, not having has time to read the full duty of counsel, not having has time to read the full duty of counsel, not having has time to read the full duty of counsel, and if the Judge though proper to refuse to grant any postponement, he knew it would be dene under a sense of duty. These extraordinary circumstances would also render it impossible for his associate, Mr. Garswoth, to discharge his full duty as counsel. A short delay of a few hours, if the Court thought proper to grant it, would enable them to make some preparation.

The Court decided that the trial must go on. No more delays could be granted.

The noise of the falling stones attracted the inmates of the house, when the alarm was given, and an excited crowd so massembled. The possibility of the buried man's escape did not occur to any one, when his voice was suddenly hoard coming from thirty feet below the surface.

Some 6 or 8 men were immediately set at work throwing out the dirt and rocks, and as soon as they had got to a depth which required it, a windlass was used to facilitate the work. The voice of the man could constantly be heard imploring them to relieve him, and indicating that his position was very painful. After nine hours constant labor, the workman was reached ard rescued from his perilous position.

It seems that when the wall fell, he was forced against one side of the well, and closely packed in there by the rocks and durt, so that he could not move at all and scarcely breaths. One large rock fell against his head, inflicting a severe bruise, and others rolling against the side of his less were considerably hurt, and his body and limbs covered with bruises, but no bones were broken, and no serious injuries of any kind carsed. This is one of the most remarkable escapes of the kind ever recorded.

The man ewes his life entirely to the peculiar manner in which two large stones caught against a such other and against the sides of the well, forming an arch over his head. But for a smaller for the order to the steambly New World. The facts in the case are these: The regular closing the first of the steamble New World. A Mother's Influence. A Mother's Influence.

How touching the tribute of the Hon. T. H.
BENTEN to his mother's influence:

My mother asked me never to use tobacco. I have never touched it from that time to the present day; she asked me not to game, and I have n'vergambled, and I cannot tell who is winning and who is losing in games that can be played. She stimonished me, too, against hard drinking; and whatever usefulness I may attain in life, I have attributed to having complied with her correct wishes. When I was seven years of age, she asked me not to drink, and then I made a resolution of total abstimence, at a time when I was sole constituent member of my own body, and that I have adhered to it through all time, I owe it to my mother.

CITY NEWS

FIRE IN NINTH AVENUE. - Shortly before eight o'clock, on Saturday morning, a tire broke out in a frame stable, in the rear of No. 210 Ninth Aveue, occupied by Tromas James. The flames rapidly consumed the stable, and sufficested a horse, valsed at $100, belonging to Mr. Javes. From the stable, the flames communicated to the iron railing manufactory of WILLIAM WRIGHT, No. 247 West 24th street, which was consumed. The flames spread to a small Methodist Episc pal Mission Church, No. 24b West 24th street, and owned by Chas. H. Moust. This building, valued at $2.500, was nearly destroyed; insured for $1.500, in the New York Fire and Marine Insurance Company .-The sixth Universalist Society, which forms'ly wor shipped in the church, had an organ in it, valued at $600, which was destroyed; not insured. Mr. Mount's dwelling, No. 249 West 24th street, was damaged by fire and water about $300, and insured in the New York Fire and Marine Insurance Company. Mr. WEIGHT'S loss is about $1.000, and not insured. The cause of the fire is unknown.

POLITICAL. -The Republican Senatorial Convention, Fourth District, met on Saturday night, at Laird's Hotel, and nominated Dr. Samuss. Hall for Senator. Dr. Hall had previously been no minated by the American and Whig Conventions.

The friends of Horatio N. Wille, the America Republican and Whig cardidate for member of As-sembly in the 3d district, met at Laird's Hotel, on Saturday evening, on the invitation of the Ex-Courcilman. Owing to a sudden indisposition of the Ex-Councilman he was unable to meet them.

METHODIST ANNIVERSARY.—The John street Methodist Episcopal Church held an anniversary yesterday, in commemoration of the dedication of the first Methodist Church, which occurred Oct. 30, 1768, ninety-one years age. The services were a Love Feast, at $%, and preaching by the Rev. Wm. H. Milburg, at 10% o'clock in the morning. In the afternoon a reunion was held at 2 o'clock; brief addresses were had from former pastors and members of the Church. The Rev. Dr. Bangs, STRPHENS, FLOYD and STRUCKLAND took a part in the ceremonies. The ceremonies conclude in the evening with a prayer meeting at 6 o'clock, and preaching by the Rev. Bishop James. The attendance was very large.

BALL'S LIFE BOAT EUREKA. - This vessel which left Whitehall dock on Friday, to make her trial trip and to test her sea qualities, made the run to Stapleton in 1½ hours. The boat is 32 feet long, beam, and 4% depth in the cabin; it is celled both inside and out, and cau'ked water-tight, forming 35 water-tight compartments. Air chambers are introduced 4½ feet from the stern and the stem, and water-tight bulkheads amidships of each chamber. The deck is formed by door-leafs working on hinges, which, by being opened three inches spart, resting on bulkheads, form the principal ventila-tion. The boat is ca'culated to accommodate about 100 persons, and is 12 tons burden.

THE STRANGE NEW WORLD,-This vessel has firsted somewhat nearer shore than she was when noticed before. Several vessels are engaged in picking up and saving her cargo, which con-tinues to float off with the tide. The large hoisting derrick will go up to-day, when the walking beam, beliers, masks pipes and all the heavy machinery will be taken out. When this is done, the steamer will be clost, "The large lattice-werk room on the main deck, and one crate filled with passingers' begges, is still unfer water, where it has been ever since he best sunk. The secident was caused, no doubt, by dry re-rule gallows frame outside had every appear-ance of being sound, which it was; but inside it was rotten, caused by continual heating, writing and drying of the gallows frame, to which its exposed position subjects it. The frame timbers are 40 feet long, 19 by 21 inches square, of the very best yellow Georgia pine, selected, cut, and imported expressly for the purpose. Work on the steamer was suspended four months, that the timsteamer was suspended four months, that the tim-ber might be properly seasoned before putting up.— This frame, which is in a triangular form, is braced, strapped, fastened, do., in the strongest possible manner. The walking beam, weighing 18½ tons, is placed upon the top of this framework, and it was the top of this frame that broke, one side, some six by the sudden jerk, which threw the beam forward some twelve feet, breaking, crashing, tearing everything in its way down, till stopped by the braces and timbers of the framework.

The steamer New Word was inspected in Septem ber by the steamboat inspectors, who, like the officers of the boat, never dreamed of the gallows fram being rotten. The officers and waiters on board say that the women behaved during the disaster much better than the men. The ladies were not half so badly frightened. Whilst the ladies took with them all their wearing apparel, except, perhaps, an occasional bair pin, or some little trinket of no great value, the men left behind them coats, vests, pants, patent leathers, brandy bottles, p aying cards, &c.

The facts in the case are these: The regular closing hour of the Buffalo line is 9:30 P. M. On Wednesday night, at nearly elseen o'clock, an individual called upon the operator at Yonkers, and having roused him from his slumbers, requested him to send a telegraph despatch to New York. The caller wasassured by the operator that it was too late, that all the offices were closed, and it would be useless to make any attempt at that hour to rouse the New York operator. This reply, however, was not satisfactory to the applicant, and, therefore, in order to make it so, Mr. Ashinay, no operator, went to his office, and remained there for upwards of an hour, calling in vain for the New York office to respond. This was the precise result which the applicant had been told to expect, and here the matter necessarily ended.

LEGAL REPORTS SATURDAY.

Porter's Spirit to be sold for the benefit of creditors—Abran C. Dayton vs. Georys Wilkes.—This was an appacation by the plaintiff in this case for a receiver, whose duty it should be to take charge of the paper, adjust its affairs, and sed it out for the payment of debts against it.

Counsel for plaintiff desired that the plaintiff himself be appointed as such receiver by the Court, but it was objected that such a proceeding would be unprecedented—that it was contrary to well established principes of law, to show a litigant to be also a receiver in the same action. Matton was made that the receiver be allowed sixty or ninety days in which to wind up the concern, which was also objected to, and the time was finally fixed at tairty days, and exJudge Coles, of the Marine Bench, was agreed upon as receiver.

The Cose of Shephard.—The General Term of Superior Court.

Judge Coles, of the Marine Bench, was agreed upon as secoiver.

The Cuse of Shephard.—The General Term of this Court convened again to hear the cosing argument in the old police cases, there not having been sufficient time at the last session to hear it. The case of Shephard was first taken up, and on motion of the District Attorney, the opinion of the Court of Appeals was made the opinion of this Court in the case, and the case was then remanded to the General Sessions for new trial.

Mr. D. D. Field then proceeded to make the closing argument in the case of Beatty vs. the Poice Commissioners. But little interest was exhibited in the matter, and but few spectators were present.

A Case of Alleged Hardship.—Christian Angels vs. John Kretz.—This was an action for the secucion of the wife of the plaintiff, and was originally brought in the Supreme Court in the Spring of 1858. Judgment was obtained against the defendant by default, and the Sheriff's jury assessed damages at $550. The defendant was arrested in proceedings upon the judgment, and committed to the cells of Eldridge st. jail, where he has remained ever since. Motion was now made to discharge, which was not opposed. Counsel for the defendant stated, upon making the metion, that his client had been confined in jail the whole time, by a series of neglects, of an aggravating character, on the part of the plaintiffs. It was alleged, first, that they did not get the judgment docketed until some three months after it was entered, and further, that he was not charged in execution until long after the proper time. Tuese delays, is was alleged, were made purposely, to keep the defendant in jail, the plaintiff well knowing that he could not pay the damage assessed. Motion granted.
